

Mission Statement

To provide outstanding service that powers our rural communities.

7 Cooperative Principles

Open and Voluntary Membership: Cooperatives are voluntary organizations, open to all persons able to use their services and willing to accept the responsibilities of members.

Democratic Members Control: Cooperatives are democratic organizations controlled by their members, who actively participate in setting policies and making decisions.

Members' Economic Participation: Members contribute equitable to, and democratically control, the capital of their cooperative.

Education, Training and Information: Cooperatives provide education and training for their members, elected representatives, manager, and employees so they can contribute effectively to the development of their cooperatives.

Autonomy and Independence: Cooperatives are autonomous, independent organizations controlled by their members.

Cooperation Among Cooperatives: Cooperatives serve their members most effectively and strengthen the cooperative movement by working together.

Concern for Community: While focusing on member needs, cooperatives work for the sustainable development of their communities.
